

CARROLLTON COUNTY FARMER PRAISES VIN
HEPATICA AS FINE NERVE & STOMACH TONIC
USES IT FOR HIS WHOLE FAMILY FOR STOMACH AND NERVES.

Mr. A. T. Tandy, farmer, Highland Avenue Carrollton, Ky., writes under date of February 2 that after suffering from nervousness and stomach trouble he found Vin Hepatica a fine medicine for such purposes.

"I have used several bottles of Vin Hepatica in my family the last three months," says Mr. Tandy, "and it is a fine medicine for nervousness and stomach trouble."

That is just the way thousands of others are talking about this famous Vin Hepatica, a prescription of eight of the finest all-vegetable stomach and nerve remedies and tonics. It goes at once to the seat of the trouble, stops indigestion, arrests catarrhal conditions, acts on the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels, enriches the blood and tones up the entire system.

If you are nervous, have stomach, liver or kidney trouble, or are in a weak and run-down condition and need a fine tonic, come in and get a bottle of this great prescription, and take it on our recommendation.

IS IT PROFITABLE?

If the editor will grant the space I want to say a few words to the farmers of Benton County. The question is sometimes asked, "Is it profitable to raise sheep?"

Ask your neighbor who raises dogs to get rid of them, buy a few sheep and learn for himself which is the most profitable. If you will try this one year, we suggest that you buy five ewes and take good care of them; when the club sells wool or lambs sell with them, and I am sure you will be well pleased with the result.

The spring clip this year brought $1,272.20 and the lambs $688.62, a total of $1,960.82. This was the result of organization. Buyers were here on the day of sale, and the best offer was accepted. Have you heard of anyone selling a dog?

We are just waking up to the possibilities of sheep raising in Benton County. Lets get busy, friends, and push next year's sales up to $3,000. More sheep means more lambs and wool and more lambs and wool means more money.

R. L. STOCKARD.

In another column of this weeks issue of the News will be found the announcement of Hon. R. L. Stockard as a candidate to succeed himself as State Senator. Mr. Stockard has shown his worth as a representative of the Twenty-sixth Senatorial District, and if he is returned to office his previous record will be enlarged by his activity to try to reduce the annual expense of the State which is a large item. During his last term of office he not only rendered faithful and efficient service but was classed among the most efficient Senators sent up from any district. Mr. Stockard is well known and well thought of in political circles and is a very influential gentleman. The voters could not do better than to return him to the Senate for another term of office as he will undoubtedly prove of great value, and the State at this critical time needs a man of value to represent the people from every district. If he is returned he will do his best to give the State the best service of which he is capable.—Whiteville News.

The Chronicle endorses every word of the above tribute to our esteemed countyman. We take the position that as Democrats of the Twenty-sixth Senatorial District we should support Senator Stockard on the same grounds that we are called upon to support Senator Shields and Representative Sims. They have all made good, so to speak, and justly entitled to endorsement.

Mr. Stockard rendered faithful and efficient service while a member of the State Senate. He was not only careful and painstaking, but he stood for retrenchment and reform in our State governmental affairs, a matter which deserves the attention of the law making body of Tennessee.

The appointive power has run rampant without pause or hindrance. The official roster of the General Assembly and the various State departments need vigorous pruning; there are many sinkholes and quagmires to be filled in order to curtail the constant drain of the State Treasury. Mr. Stockard can be depended on to use his best efforts toward reducing the expense of our State government.

In urging our people to give Mr. Stockard their endorsement, we do so without any purpose to disparage the character or qualifications of those who oppose him for the nomination. Reports coming in clearly indicate that the voters of the district have made up their mind to return Mr. Stockard to the Senate, and The Chronicle moves that we make it unanimous.

We are glad to inform the many loyal supporters of better farming that the Government will retain County Agent Wilson. One of our bankers has dubbed him him "the live wire of Benton County."

SLACKER LIST.

In a letter to Albert S. Justice, chairman Benton County War Savings Committee, T. R. Rreston, State director, says:

"Too much stress can not be laid on the importance of keeping your records complete and reporting to this office the names of those that fail to attend meetings, or sign pledges, June 28.

"There may be some who will pledge a nominal amount for the purpose of escaping the responsibility; they should be listed just as if they had not pledged. This matter is not optional with you, or me. It is one feature of the plan that must be carried out verbatim."

CREED FOR AMERICANS.

I wish to be kind, just, intelligent, diligent and happy, and to persuade others to help me so to be because I know that in so far as I succeed I shall help my country to be generous, law-abiding, prosperous and progressive; a country in which everyone may find so much pleasure as his own nature permits him to earn and to enjoy. If my country does wrong, I shall oppose it in that wrong. If any try to injure it, I shall oppose them and if need be I shall fight them. I believe that we are and should continue united in the task of making everyone each day more nearly equal before our laws, our customs, and our opinions, and in giving to everyone every day greater freedom in thought and speech and action; all to the end that all may work together in harmony and in mutual aid to make this a still more desirable dwelling place for a gentle, intelligent and industrious people.—John Cotton Dana.

Aunt Kizzie Wyly Dead.

Editor The Chronicle:

Aunt Kizzie Wyly, colored, aged 106, died June 22, while visiting at Hickman, Ky. Aunt Kizzie was a strict member of the Baptist Church and a typical black mama of antebellum days. Honest, loyal, industrious, she had little patience with what she termed the modern "nigger." Aunt Kizzie had lived in the Woods family seventy years. It was the request of Mrs. Woods before her death that her son, W. A. Woods, take care of and provide for Aunt Kizzie as long as she lived. That request has been fully complied with and Aunt Kizzie passed her declining years in a refined, Christian home.
